A BRILLIANT AFFAIR.

The Paper Carnival Last Night --A Grand Success.

The Finest Sight Ever Witnessed in Victoria--The Characters.

For some time back active preparations have been on the tapis by the congregation of St. James' Church for holding a paper carnival in aid of the funds of that denomination. The long looked-for affair came off yesterday afternoon and evening and in every respect proved to be a most unqualified success. It was held in the roller skating rink, Yates street, which had been beautifully decorated for the occasion by the signal men of H. M. S. Caroline. The doors were thrown open to the public at 3 o'clock in the afternoon and again at 7 in the evening. No sooner had the doors been opened in the evening than the large and spacious building was filled with spectators and those dressed in costume.

The large booth for the sale of useful and artistic articles was in charge of Mesdames James, Byrn, Sanders, Revely, Renwick, Perry, Bouchier and Miss O'Reilly. A large number of articles were speedily disposed of by these ladies. There was also a large flower stand containing a great variety of flowers and plants donated by the Rev. Mr. Jenns. Mrs. Major Wilson and the Misses Jenns had charge of this department and succeeded in disposing of a large supply of button-hole bouquets. There were other booths gaily decorated and presided over by richly attired handsome ladies, presenting an attractive appearance.

At the hour of 8:30 the band of H. M. S., the Triumph, struck up music and to it martial strains the grand march began. Nothing could excel the grandeur of the scene presented by the spectacle of the pageant as it passed along. The procession was headed by Mr. Bouchier impersonating Old Father Time, followed by others, amongst whom we observed:

Spring—Miss Lowen, in a dress of pure white adorned with spring flowers. Summer—Miss B Jenns, pale blue bedecked with roses. Autumn—Mrs Jones, straw color handsomely trimmed with poppies. Winter—Miss Dunsmuir, a charming impersonation. This dress of this lady was universally admired and conceded to be one of the finest in the carnival. Night—Miss M Dunsmuir, pale blue with silver trimmings. Morning—Miss Harvey, pink and silver.

Reapers—Misses Law, Ellis, Johnson, and White, all dressed alike but varying in colors.

Knave of hearts, diamonds, clubs and spades—The Misses and Masters Johnston, were beautifully and artistically dressed and much admired.

Mary Queen of Scots—Miss McKenzie. This lady was richly and appropriately dressed. She was attended by the following: Mary Hamilton—Miss M de Veulle, a handsome costume of yellow; Mary Beeton—Mrs Blaiklock, cardinal and white; Mary Seton—Mrs Combe, sea foam, white, very pretty in design; Mary Carmichael—Miss Langley, pink and white. Court ladies—Miss Finlayson, a handsome light brown costume; Mrs Perry, pink and white, prettily fringed; Nuns—Miss Hopkins and Miss de Veulle; Pages, Miss Nelly and Maud Prior, Ray Rome—Henry Cambie; Lord Darnley—Mr T R Smith; Earl of Murray—Mr A W Jones; Rizzio—Mr Holland; Earl of Moreton—Mr Combe; Court Jester—B H T Drake; Man-at-Arms—Mr Vandin.

Queen of Gypsies—Miss Hibben; Gypsies—Mrs Fisher, Misses Fisher and Mrs Langley, Mrs Leneveu; all appropriately dressed; attractive characters.

Queen Elizabeth—Miss Cooper, who was beautifully attired in a costume of white with court train of gold, the front being gold lace and diamonds, the crown was of gold set with precious stones. The ladies of the court were Miss Robertson, violet with silver front trimmed with silver fringe and pearls. Miss Mesher, pink and white, handsomely designed. Mrs Mesher, sea green and crimson with white brocaded front. Miss Nellie Withrow, a beautiful dress of white, en train with gold front and gold lace trimming. Miss Wilson, orange and white, appropriately decorated.

The gentlemen of the Court were: Charles I—Mr Pooley; Com de Leon—Mr Gibbons; Earl of Essex—Mr R Jones; Earl of Leicester—Mr Nicholles. The Queen's pages were: Messrs Beauchamp, Tye and White, whilst Messrs W Finlayson and T Heisterman acted as standard bearers. All were costumed in accordance with court regulations.

The Mikado and his Oriental suite, as Oriental representatives attracted much attention. Mr. E. G. Prior—as the Mikado, was dressed in a costume imitating brown silk embroidered in yellow and gold a la Japanese, with a sash of blue and trousers to match. Yum Yum—Mrs Kennedy, scarlet and blue, with sash of gold embroidered with dragons. Pitti Sing—Miss Finlayson, rose color unique in design, brown sash embroidered. Pee Boo—Miss Higgins, pink, with gold embroidered front, green sash with Japanese decorations. Katisha—Mrs J H Turner, a handsome costume of cardinal, embroidered in gold. Ladies of the Court—Miss E Davie, orange and red, a pretty combination; Miss M Davie, cardinal and lavender; Miss C Finlayson, cardinal and black. The gentlemen of the Court were all appropriately costumed and assumed characters as follows:—Nanki Poo, Mr Watson; Ko Ko, Mr. Hibben; Poo Bah, Mr W Jones; Pestache, Mr H Jones; Mikado's Umbrella Bearer, M Hibben.

Mrs. Jones Jones, as a Welsh Peasant Girl, was a charming character. Her costume was of blue, scarlet and black with a high Welsh hat.

Mrs Bushby, as Britannia, was a splendidly assumed character dressed in red, white and blue, trimmed with gold lace, shield and trident, a helmet of gold with laurel leaves—a perfect impersonation and one that was deservedly applauded.

Fancy French Costume—Miss Brady, very beautiful.

The shoe and the old lady created much merriment as they passed by drawn by the boys. Inside the shoe were Misses Katie Davie, Ethel Courtney, Alice Bell, Cora Powell, Miss Nuttall, Leneveu and Saunders. Miss Munro, as a butterfly, was prettily costumed in cardinal and cream colors adorned with butterflies.

In the grand march there were many other ladies as well as gentlemen neatly attired in appropriate costume for the characters as represented by them. The march finished, the several ladies and gentlemen took possession of the booths assigned them and assisted in serving refreshments. Tableaux and song then followed. The entire affair presented such a spectacle as is seldom witnessed in any city, for it was admittedly the finest ever seen here.

This evening the carnival will be repeated, the procession taking place at 8:15. There will be extra attractions, with songs and choruses by the Mikado Company; splendid tableaux and extra lighting. There will no doubt be another full house. The ladies and gentlemen having the management of the affair in hand are to be congratulated on the great success which has attended this, their first effort in the paper carnival line.

ROYAL HONORS.

The Queen's Jubilee Favors in the Shape of Baronets and Knights.

On the occasion of Her Majesty's Jubilee, says the Pall Mall Gazette, the Queen has been graciously pleased to confer the dignity of an Earldom upon Lord Londesborough, and the dignity of a peerage of the United Kingdom and Ireland, upon the Earl of Strathmore and Viscount Galway, selected as representing the Scotch and Irish. The dignity of a peerage Her Majesty was graciously pleased to confer upon Sir John St. Aubyn, Bart., M P; Sir William Armstrong, C B; Sir James M'Garel-Hogg, Bart, K C B; The Rt Hon George Sclater-Booth, M P; E Fellowes, Esq; H Eaton, Esq, M P.

The Baronets appointed were Sir A Borthwick, M P; T W Evans, Esq; Chas. Dalrymple, Esq, M P; W Gilstrap, Esq; Colonel Thursby; W H Houldsworth, Esq, M P; S Cunliffe-Lister, Esq; C E G Phillips, Esq, of Picton; B Moon, Esq, Chairman London and Northwestern railway; W Pearce, Esq, M P; R Loder, Esq; T Lucas, Esq; Sir Charles Clifford.

The honor of Knighthood was conferred upon Pryce Jones, Esq; Warrington Smyth, Esq; H Mitchell, Esq, of Bradford; E Galsworthy, Esq; Dr Garrod; G H MacLeod, Esq, Queen's Surgeon, Edinburgh; H W Parker, Esq, President Incorporated Law Society; J C Cuthbertson, Esq, School Board, Glasgow; W C Leng, Esq, Sheffield; H Doulton, Esq; T Edridge, Esq, Croydon; W J Farrer, Esq, High Bailiff of Westminster; Dr Aitken, Netley Hospital; H F Bristowe, Esq, Q C, Vice-Chancellor of the Duchy of Lancaster; Alderman Lawrence; J Wright, Esq, C B, late Chief Engineer to the Navy; Andrew Maclean, Esq, Partick; Thomas Storey, Esq, Lancaster; John Smith, Esq, Derby; Arnold White, Esq; J C Robinson, Esq, Surveyor of Pictures; George Martin Holloway, Esq; The Lord Mayor of York; The Lord Provost of Glasgow; The Mayor of Liverpool; The Mayor of Leeds; The Mayor of Sheffield; The Mayor of Bristol; The Mayor of Salford; The Mayor of Newcastle-on-Tyne; The Mayor of Portsmouth; The Mayor of Norwich; The Mayor of Windsor.

A number of promotions were also conferred on those already having titles. A considerable number of the Civil Service employees—heads of departments—were made Companions.

It will be observed that the expected royal favors which were to be showered upon the colonies failed to connect and that neither the premiers of the provinces, of the Dominion, or those of any of the colonies or the mayors were taken into consideration. In making his recommendations to Her Majesty, says the Pall Mall Gazette, for the grant of honors on the occasion of the jubilee, the Prime Minister has desired to recognize the cooperation and support which the government have received from the Liberal-Union at party in parliament, and that he has been in communication with Lord Hartington as to the selection of the members of that party who have been included in the list of distinctions.

THE TEA ROUTES.

The Rates Charged via the Suez Canal--the N. P. R. and the C. P. R.

In an interview with an Evening Journal representative, Mr. H. N. Bate, a prominent wholesale grocer of Ottawa, relative to the new Canadian Pacific Steamship route to Japan and China and freight rates stated that his firm had received circulars giving rates from Japan and China via Suez route, Canadian and Northern Pacific routes. He said that it was not generally known but the Northern Pacific Railway Company are quoting rates from Hongkong and Yokohama at 11½ per lb. gross, which is perhaps the cheapest actual rate there is. Still their line from San Francisco to Yokohama is only a sailing vessel line and consequently teas shipped by that line are delayed much longer than by the other lines. Then of course insurance rates are very much higher. The circular from the agents of the steamship lines by the Suez route states that there will be two steamships, the Glensheet and the Monmouthshire, start from Yokohama and Hongkong for London, during the present month. They quote 50 and 60 shillings a ton, 2240 lbs. measurement, to Canada by way of New York which is a little higher than the rate quoted by the C. P. R. Company. The circular from the Canadian Pacific Mail and Steamship Line states that the following steamships will sail from Hongkong and Yokohama for Vancouver: Steamship Abyssinia with 600,000 pounds of tea for Canadian ports, Steamship Parthia with a cargo of 250,000 pounds of tea for Canadian ports. Steamship Port Augusta on the 13th of July, and the steamship Batavia two weeks later. They quote rates from Hongkong and Yokohama to points in Canada, via C. P. R. steamship line and C. P. R. lines overland at 2c. per pound. The advantages the Canadian Pacific route have over the other two routes are that the rates of insurance on teas when shipped by that route are much less than by either of the other routes. Then their rate of 2c. per pound gross is far more convenient than the rate by the Suez route at so many shillings per ton measurement.

The shipments via the C. P. R. are very much larger than they have been heretofore, and that the route will eventually become the popular route not only for Canada and the United States, but for England as well. Tea has been shipped from Yokohama by the C. P. R. route via Vancouver and New York to London, arriving there 29 days after date of shipment from Yokohama.

HAWAIIAN EMEUTE.

The Empire Tranquil --- No Trouble Anticipated.

Celebration of the Fourth--Gibson in Confinement.

SAN FRANCISCO, July 13.—The steamship Australia arrived here this morning from Honolulu, sailing from that point at noon of July 5th, and bringing Hawaiian intelligence down to that time. No further outbreaks or demonstrations of any kind had occurred after those described as having taken place on Friday and Saturday, June 30th and July 1st, which resulted in the overturning of the Gibson Ministry and obtaining written pledges from King Kalakaua to promote constitutional reforms and submit to the will of the people. The military continues to remain on duty, but no further public assemblages have been held. The new Ministry has assumed control, and a new constitution was to be laid before the King. Ex-Premier Gibson and his son-in-law, F. H. Seidel, who were arrested on June 30th, were held in jail until Saturday night, July 2nd, when, owing to Gibson's age, he was taken to his home by order of the new Attorney-General, where he remains under military guard. His trial was set for July 6th. Cyprian Webb, secretary to the ex-Minister of Foreign Affairs, who was also arrested, was released on bail. The excitement in the kingdom had apparently so thoroughly subsided on Monday, July 4th, that the celebration in honor of America's natal day occurred at Honolulu, attended by fully five thousand people. Patriotic addresses were made by Hon. G. W. Merrill, American Minister, and Hon. Geo. E. Whitney, of California. A national salute was fired from the shore battery during the afternoon. The American Minister held a reception, which was attended by King Kalakaua and members of his staff, and a ball was given at night at the Music Hall which was attended by the naval officers of the United States and representatives of foreign Embassies, together with a large representation of citizens of Honolulu.

The Honolulu papers, in comments upon the change of administration, predict that no further public outbreaks are expected, provided a new constitution is adopted and reforms inaugurated.

The Hawaiian Gazette, in an editorial, says: "The word of the King cannot be taken by this people; it has been proved again and again that it is not worth the paper it is written on. In fact we remember the circumstances so well that we are not going to be deceived again."

In reviewing the occurrence at Honolulu, it appears the King was inclined to make a stand against the populace, but was quickly disabused of the idea that he could make a successful fight. When the steamship Australia arrived from San Francisco, with nearly two thousand stand of arms, the populace at once armed, and then the mass meeting was called which presented its ultimatum to the King. All approaches to the palace were barricaded, and Gattling guns had been placed in the palace, together with a considerable quantity of firearms. When it became evident that the populace really meant fight, the retainers of the King began quickly to disappear, and he had no alternative but to make his sudden resolve to concede everything, and even then appeared to fear his life was in danger, which caused him to ask American and other foreign representatives to assume control of affairs temporarily. On Saturday night, July 1st, peace having been very thoroughly restored, the citizens' committee passed a proclamation, declaring that the Honolulu rifles could maintain order and requesting citizens not to appear on the streets armed until further orders. The new ministry it is declared has already discovered that all public funds have been exhausted. The Daily Bulletin declares that in addition to the regular revenue, all postal savings banks deposits have disappeared, and it was owing to this fact the King feared personal violence. All seized arms and ammunition of the government have been placed in government house and placed under a military guard.

On the 5th inst. Mr. Andrew Carnegie laid the foundation stone of the new library building for the endowment of which he donated $250,000. Blaine was present and made an address. The works of all of Scotland's best thinkers have always had a large circulation in America, and all have profited by them. As for himself, he looked with pleasure upon the splendid galaxy of Scotland's sons, as Stowe, Scott, Jeffrey and Sidney Smith, whose literature, the latter avowed, had been cultivated upon oatmeal. Blaine was well received and much cheered.

A gigantic lottery swindle has just been unearthed in Montreal. The chief of police has received a number of enquiries from parties in the United States asking for information about a financial firm named Reade's & Co., Montreal. Accompanied with the letters were glowing prospectus' of a grand legal lottery in aid of the Parish of St. Marie, P. Q. The first prize valued at $40,000, and 10,000 prizes of different values. It was announced that the drawing would be conducted in the same honorable manner as a banking institution. Parties were asked to address their communications to Box 1436, P. O., Montreal. It appears the lottery tickets had been sold by agents all over the United States. Chief of Police Paradis communicated with the St. Marie Church authorities and they knew nothing of, or had not authorized lottery.

POLITICAL AND PERSONAL.

The many friends of Hon. Edward Blake will rejoice to know that his health continues to improve.

The Conservatives are going to try hard to carry the Renfrew seat rendered vacant by the death of Mr. Campbell, whose majority in February was about 70.

It is generally understood that Lieut.-Governor Dewdney is to be continued in office, at least, until the next elections to the Northwest Council, one year from this fall.

Dr. O'Rielly, inspector for Ontario of insane asylums, says all the buildings in Ontario are full. The numbers in each are: Toronto, 693; London, 901; Kingston, 679; Hamilton, 610; total, 2,883.

The United States meteorological authorities announce that the present excessive heat seems to be caused by southerly winds, and is not likely to be abated for some time to come.

Medicine Hat, N. W. T., Times: Some of the high peaks in the Selkirk Range have been re-christened and now bear the names of Cabinet Ministers. We don't mind the changing of a name, but we do object to making mountains out of mole hills.

The British tin plate trade is rejoicing over the order given by the French Government for 4,500,000 pounds of canned beef from Chicago. It means that an immense quantity of tin plates will be required to make the cans and the British will get the trade.

Lieut.-Governor Macdonald, of Michigan, invested $350 in a mine out of which he gets a revenue of $40,000 a year. But, therefore, don't rush into mining until you hear from the man who invested $40,000 and would think himself in luck to get back $350.

Whilst Victorians and British Columbians are enjoying mild weather their cousins in the east are sweltering in the tropid atmosphere everywhere to be met with. The patient citizen there is consoling himself with the fact that Christmas is coming. Concerning the heat the Philadelphia North American observes: "The tomb of Ovid has been discovered or else some one is establishing a summer resort in that vicinity."

The carriage in which Victoria rode to the abbey is known as the No. 3 state coach. It is an elegant carriage, which was probably made at least 100 years ago, and in preparing it for decoration the workmen found coatings of green and yellow paint, fashionable colors of bygone times. It was magnificently renovated. Strange to say, there is no maker's name on this coach, which is, in its new dress, a splendid specimen of British workmanship.

Co-operation, which has not made much progress in America, has been vastly more successful in England. The British co-operative societies now possess more than 1,400 stores doing an annual business of more than thirty millions sterling. During the past 25 years the working classes have, by means of co-operation, done a business exceeding £361,000,000. In the neighborhood of Oldham, Eng., there are many cotton mills at work, with capital to nearly £6,000,000, the greater part of which has been subscribed by the men who are themselves working in the mills, and out of money saved through co-operation.

A Toronto dispatch in referring to the appearance of the new Conservative organ says: The Mail people claim that the new paper will not hurt them very much, as all the old-line Conservatives have long since dropped from their list and they have secured a new constituency. The Globe folks say they have had the worst that opposition can do in the last four years, and as the Reform organ, have no cause for fear. The World will probably suffer the most, as since the change in the Mail's position, it has aimed to become the Conservative organ, and is even said to have been subsidized to some extent. After the record of the last few months, it can scarcely be able to claim independence, and must therefore suffer from this new deal.

But little reliance can be placed on the report that Mr. Gladstone purposes visiting America, under the auspices of the Hon. James G. Blaine, who is now in Great Britain. The British Liberal leader, should he ever see fit to come to this continent, would certainly have more tact than to allow himself to be entangled in the promotion of a boom for any candidate for the United States Presidency. But over and over again Gladstone has told his friends on this side of the Atlantic that, though he would like to visit America, such a trip at his time of life is out of the question. And there is no reason to doubt that when he so declared himself the Grand Old Man was in earnest. At the same time, if Gladstone could secure immunity from sea-sickness there might be worse methods of recruiting his energies than a voyage across the Atlantic between the close of the Parliamentary session and the setting in of the fall storms.

A BLOODLESS REVOLUTION.

The revolution in Hawaii, the particulars of which were given in our telegraphic dispatches of a few days ago, promises to be a bloodless and successful one. A copy of the Honolulu Herald of the 1st of July, containing full reports of the speeches at the mass meeting that promulgated the demands upon the King, is now before us. The speeches of the leading revolutionists—"traitors" would have been the word had they been unsuccessful in deposing the corrupt minister, Gibson—were temperate considering the occasion, but all demanded a new constitution and the non-interference hereafter of King KALAKAUA in political elections. From the readiness with which that potentate acceded to the wishes of his subjects, and granted them the magna charta they demanded, it is evident that while he may be a corrupt ruler and a fool he is not wanting in diplomacy, and knows how to make a virtue of necessity and bow to the inevitable quite as well as his more pretentious cotemporaries in Europe and Asia. A rejection of the demands of the people would have been followed by the deposition of the King, and possibly by bloodshed and anarchy. This King KALAKAUA has avoided, and it may be given to him to reign long and happily over the sunny isles of the Pacific.

Just what has led to the revolt of the merchants and business men of Honolulu is not very apparent on the surface. It has been suspected that the rival sugar monopolists were at the bottom of the agitation that has been going on for some months and which culminated on the 1st inst., but while SPRECKLES and the other capitalists may have had a hand in fomenting the discontent the gross corruption of the King and his Cabinet was undoubtedly the main factor in bringing the growing discontent to a climax. One instance will suffice. Some time ago some Chinese merchants bribed KALAKAUA with a large sum of money and a roast pig to give them a monopoly in the opium trade. One of the bribers, TONG KEE, alias T. AKI, published an affidavit giving an account of this extraordinary transaction. He states that he is a rice grower and mill owner on the island of Oahu, but having a house in Honolulu. After the passage of the opium bill in 1886, he desired to obtain the license, and a friend, CHUN MOOK, informed him that the King had intimated that if he could control plenty of money the license could be secured. The registrar of conveyances, one JUNIUS KAAE, also spoke to AKI and offered his assistance. It was arranged that AKI should raise $60,000, and on the 3rd AKI drove to the palace and presented the King with the following remarkable letter:

"To His Majesty.—MAY YOU LIVE FOREVER,—I come to you with this small gift, that is $20,000. On the seventh day from this day I will again bring to your hand $40,000. What I ask of Your Majesty now is that you will give me the opium license. I do not think that my gift is larger than that of many other people, perhaps they have been before Your Majesty, perhaps not. I consider that a small gift with love and affection is large. And now if you will help me and I really get the license, then at the expiration of the first year that I have it I will give Your Majesty $10,000 each year until the expiration of the time, or perhaps all the money will be paid at one time, as may be decided upon by Your Majesty. Your humble servant,

T. AKI."

The subsequent troubles of AKI to raise the $40,000 and his visits to the King are related with great precision. Finally, having paid the King $10,000 previously, making $30,000 in all, he secured the balance of the $60,000, and going to the palace presented KALAKAUA with the following epistle and a roast pig:

"Oh Lord of Heaven! Here is a small offering, a suckl pig for breakfast, and it would be a good thing if my Royal Master would be pleased to accept this. And here is something small, which will be laid before you. A few 10 cent pieces, $30,000, as your servant has remembered and sent it. So may you be gracious and kind to me, and as to those things your servant spoke to your Majesty, his master, about, they will be faithfully carried out, because I am forever your servant, and may the bones of your servant be constantly revived by his High and Royal Master.—T. AKI."

The money was paid over, but AKI did not get his license, and for many days he was negotiating with and interviewing the King. Finally after much squabbling an arrangement was made dividing the monopoly between three parties, each one paying therefore $25,000. But AKI could not get back the money he had paid to the King, and his creditors pressing him he divulged the whole story. One of the demands of the revolutionists is that these bribes be paid back.

With such a King it is not extraordinary that there should have been a revolution in Hawaii; the remarkable feature of the affair is that he was not compelled to step down and out.

The opinion is vigorously circulated in newspaper circles that the Toronto Globe will shortly make a move, viz., in assuming independence of its party. It will not come out squarely independent, but will not submit to dictation as to its opinion from party leaders. Independent Reform will probably best describe its proposed policy.

Catarrah, Catarrhal Deafness and Hay Fever.

Sufferers are not generally aware that these diseases are contagious, or that they are due to the presence of living parasites in the lining membrane of the nose and eustachian tubes. Microscopic research, however, has proved this to be a fact, and the result is that a simple remedy has been formulated whereby catarrh, catarrhal deafness and hay fever are cured in from one to three simple applications made at home. A pamphlet explaining this new treatment is sent free on receipt of stamp, by A. H. Dixon & Son, 305 King street West, Toronto, Canada.—Christian Standard.

OUR TRADE WITH THE UNITED STATES.

A few days ago it was intimated through THE TIMES that the Government had taken cognizance of the movement for closer commercial relations with the United States, and had instructed Mr. GEORGE JOHNSTON, who is to be appointed chief of the bureau of statistics, to prepare a complete list of the statistics of trade between this country and the United States under the Lord ELGIN reciprocity treaty of 1854, with a comparative trade table since its abrogation in 1865. Already it is known that the statistics prepared confirm the impression created by recent figures that the balance of trade under reciprocity was largely in Canada's favor. The relations between the two countries are naturally close; the long boundary extending from the Pacific to the Atlantic is merely an artificial one. Where there is a natural demarkation it is a river with bridges or ferries, or a navigable lake which interposes the slightest barrier to intercourse. Railroads but facilitate international traffic at numerous points. The needs of the communities are almost identical, and they manifest corresponding industrial progress. Each nation enforces a protective tariff against the other—that on the American side somewhat higher.

American statistics of exports to Canada are grossly and confessedly inaccurate. Exact statements of imports are obtained for revenue purposes; but millions of dollars' worth of merchandise goes from the United States into the Dominion every year without getting on the export records. The United States Bureau of Statistics estimates the deficiency in last year's returns at $20,000,000, or 60 per cent. of the exports reported. The imports into Canada in 1886, in other words, was $53,000,000 worth of commodities instead of the $33,462,800 worth which appears in the blue books. This astonishing discrepancy is due to the fact that there is no law requiring railway companies to furnish to collectors of customs statistics of domestic merchandise carried out of the country over the railways. One or two corporations, notably the Grand Trunk, provide the desired information, but the rest refuse to give it. For returns of exports from the United States to the Dominion resource must accordingly be had to the Canadian statistics of imports from the United States. These are substantially correct and trustworthy. All figures given for "exports" from the United States are, therefore, the Canadian figures for imports into Canada.

Since 1850 trade between the two countries has been carried on under five successive sets of conditions. In 1850-4 the general tariff laws of both countries prevailed. The reciprocity truly covered the 1856-66 period; the regular tariffs had force again in 1867-73. In 1874-85 they were so modified as to give free entry to fish products, and for the last two years all the protective rates have again been in active operation. That those varying tax regulations have interfered with business indirectly is an admitted fact. In order to compare commerce with duties the imports and exports passing between the United States and British North America during the past 37 years are classified according to the periods named above in the following, which shows total volume of trade, the average annual movement and the annual average excess on one side or the other: Average imports for the six years beginning 1850 and ending 1855, $7,726,487; average exports, $10,964,793; average imports, 1856-66, $14,714,898; average exports, $26,372,683; average imports, 1867-73, $31,914,725; average exports, $28,511,994; average imports, 1874-85, $34,208,574; average exports, $52,059,412.

From the foregoing it appears that in the low tariff period of 1850-55, and also while the reciprocity treaty was in force, the United States regularly sold more goods in Canada than they purchased here, and that the total volume of traffic increased handsomely. After the termination of the treaty imports increased faster than exports, and for several years the balance of trade, which had been steadily favorable, turned against them. This state of things continued until 1873, when the old rule of an excess of exports reappeared, partly perhaps because of the operation of the treaty of Washington. At all events the export trade more than doubled between 1870 and 1874, and has continued on the level of the latter year (about $50,000,000) ever since. The value of exports from Canada to the United States and exports to Canada from the United States during the last three years are as follows: Imports, 1886, $37,304,036; in 1885, $36,095,685; in 1884, $38,399,835; exports in those years respectfully, $48,451,011, $51,518,335, and $49,506,375. There is a striking correspondence between the tariffs of the two countries.

In Brief and to the Point.

Dyspepsia is dreadful. Disordered liver is misery. Indigestion is a foe to good nature.

The human digestive apparatus is one of the most complicated and wonderful things in existence. It is easily put out of order.

Greasy food, tough food, sloppy food, bad cookery, mental worry, late hours, irregular habits, and many other things which ought not to be, have made the American people a nation of dyspeptics.

But Green's August Flower has done a wonderful work in reforming this sad business and making the American people so healthy that they can enjoy their meals and be happy.

Remember! No happiness without health. But Green's August Flower brings health and happiness to the dyspeptic. Ask your druggist for a bottle. Seventy-five cents.

THE EBB OF LOVE.

A love that wanes is an ebbing tide
Which slowly, inch by inch, and scarce perceived,
With many a wave that makes brave show to rise,
Falls from the shore. No sudden treason turns
The long accustomed loyalty to hate,
But years bring weariness for sweet content,
And fondness, daily sustenance of love,
Which use should make a tribute easier paid,
First grudged, and then withholden, starves the heart;
And though compassion, or remorseful thoughts
Of happy days departed, bring again
The ancient tenderness in seeming flood,
Not less it ebbs and ebbs till all is bare.
O happy shore, the flowing tide shall brim
Thy empty pools, and spread dull, tangled weeds
In opal-tinted many colored as the lights
Which flash in northern heavens, and revive
The fainting blossoms of the rocks; but thou,
O heart, whence love hath ebbed, art ever bare!

NEW YORK'S TABLE D'HOTE.

A Feature of Metropolitan Life—A Spice of Bohemianism—Features.

There are in New York city over a hundred tables d'hote well known to men about town, besides at least another hundred of out of the way resorts which have their special customers. At a low estimate, 100,000 persons a week dine at these places. They are not the same persons all the year round. The patrons of a table d'hote vary as greatly as the guests at a hotel. Each place has its habitues, who correspond to the regular boarders. For them tables or chairs are reserved, and they have the privilege of a chat after dinner with the proprietor or the waiters. Some of them pay by the week. Some send in their own wines.

All classes are represented at the tables d'hote. Men and women, from clerks and saleswomen to actors and singers, who live in furnished rooms, dine better at tables d'hote than at boarding houses and cheaper than at restaurants. Clubmen like to vary their experiences and spare their purses by occasionally dining without the trouble of ordering the dishes. Housekeepers seek a change from the monotony of hot roast beef one day, cold roast beef the next and roast beef pie to follow. There is a spice of Bohemianism about a table d'hote which most young men affect. It is a rule in many families to dine out one day in the week, to give the servants a rest, and the table d'hote teaches culinary lessons to housekeepers.

To make out a directory of the tables d'hote would be difficult. Most of the proprietors are too timid to advertise. Their advertisements might draw a crowd, and a crowd would frighten away their regular customers. Some of them put a modest sign out, or have cards printed for distribution at clubs and stores, but these are generally places at which a bar is licensed. As a rule, it is considered bad form to make a table d'hote too public. When the men who dine at tables d'hote every day discover a first rate establishment they guard the secret carefully, inviting only tried and trusty friends to share their good fortune.

At a genuine table d'hote all the diners sit down together, at a fixed hour, and a meal is served to all of them at once. This is the style of the French and Swiss hotels and of the English ordinary. There are very few of such establishments in New York. The usual table d'hote here is a dinner, at a fixed price, served to all comers between 5 and 8 o'clock p. m. It is a restaurant dinner ordered for you by the proprietor. The real table d'hote is more like a family meal.

The requisites of a successful table d'hote are good cooking, a cheap price and drinkable wine. An accessible locality might seem essential, but the tables d'hote are scattered from Harlem to the Battery.

How Queen Natalie Saved Belgrade.

Queen Natalie, of Servia, who has separated from her husband on account of domestic troubles, has been known as the most beautiful woman in Servia, while her husband, King Milan, comes near to ranking as the homeliest person in the kingdom. The ill-matched couple were married on Oct. 17, 1875, and have but one child, the Prince Royal Alexander, who was born on Aug. 14, 1876. It was in consequence of her intimate relations with Count Rudolph von Khevenhuller, the Austrian minister, that Belgrade was saved a year and half ago, when the Bulgarian troops were marching on the capital.

Austria had refused aid to King Milan, but the too susceptible envoy was summoned to the rescue, and the following morning early found him in the Bulgarian camp. There he verbally informed Prince Alexander that if he continued his march on Belgrade an Austrian army would enter that city at his heels. Taking into consideration the high diplomatic rank held by the minister and the official nature of the communication, the prince had no reason to doubt its authenticity. Accordingly Prince Alexander brought his victorious army to a halt and withdrew from Servian territory, creating thereby the most intense surprise. The whole of the European press was mystified about the matter, and the most outlandish reasons were given for Prince Alexander's course of action. It was only when too late that the latter discovered that Count Khevenhuller had not only been without the slightest authority to make any such kind of communication as he had delivered, but that he had even acted in direct opposition to the instructions and wishes of the Austrian foreign office in so doing.—Chicago Herald.

The "Cocoon" Trick.

A substitute for the "vanishing lady" trick has just been produced at the Egyptian hall in Piccadilly. It is even more mysterious. It is, brought forward under the title of "Le Cocoon," and is introduced by Buatier de Kolta, the well known Hungarian conjurer, and inventor of the vanishing lady trick. This time M. de Kolta makes a lady mysteriously appear instead of vanishing in sight of the audience. From a line stretched across the stage de Kolta suspends a light wooden frame covered with tissue paper. On this he draws the outline of a silkworm in its cocoon, and at a given word the paper bursts and a silken semi-globular body protrudes through it. To this still suspended body the performer draws light chairs, too small and fragile for any one to suspect them of containing any apparatus for concealment of a human body. Yet when the cocoon rests upon the chair the former at once becomes animated, and, slowly opening, discloses the head and shoulders of Mme. de Kolta, gracefully attired to imitate the appearance of a moth or butterfly. All this is done in full view of the audience and under a strong light. The effect is exceedingly pretty.—London Cor. N. Y. World.

While Yet There is Time.

Then take your pleasure to-day while yet there is time. Things may not be in the best shape for the visit that you have been so long planning to your only sister. It might be better if you could wait till you had a more stylish suit of clothes, or till the boy was at home from college to look after the place; but she is ready now. You are both growing old—you had better go. John drives around with the horse. "Jump in, mother," he says; "it is a lovely day, you need the fresh air." Don't say, "I can't go. I was intending to make doughnuts," or "my crimping pins are not out," or "my dress isn't changed." Put on a warm cloak, tie a veil around your hat, take your ride. If you don't take such things when you can get them, they are apt to be shy when you want them again.—Brattleboro Household.

China has five times as much coal lands as all Europe, and her silver, lead, gold, copper, tin, iron and marble deposits are as large and profitable as those of any other country.

Edison thinks that ball playing at night is practicable by placing the lights below the surface of the ground and using reflectors. A test will be made at the Staten Island grounds during the coming summer.—Boston Budget.

The output of the locomotive works of the country now averages from thirty-six to forty engines per week.

MEN IN THEIR BONES.

WHERE THOSE THAT HANG IN DOCTORS' CLOSETS COME FROM.

An Industry Without American Foothold — Thirty Dollar Skeletons of Rather Inferior Quality—A Fine Sort Articulated with Silver Plated Wire.

The doctor began to talk about skeletons. He drew a trade circular, issued by a wholesale dealer in surgical instruments and supplies, from his pocket. The circular contained an annual review of the surgical instruments and supplies market. Part way down the neatly printed page appeared this paragraph, which the doctor read:

"Skeletons have ruled firm and active throughout the year, with prices unchanged. We have been able to supply the demand for the common varieties promptly, but the finer grades were scarce, and orders for deformities could not always be filled at once. In this regard the market is still unchanged, although our broker in Paris has orders to buy everything offered at the usual rates."

The doctor read the paragraph much as boys on the street eat ice cream out of the penny goblets they buy of Italian venders, that is, slowly and with evident relish. When he had finished it and folded the circular, he said:

"There is no branch of the enormous import trade of the American people so interesting as the trade in skeletons, although its magnitude and importance are known to but few. Not that its magnitude or value make it interesting; it attracts attention solely because the article is in itself fascinating. But there are features of the trade that may not escape the eye of the political economist. For instance, this great nation of 60,000,000 of people is wholly dependent on foreign countries for its skeletons. Not but what a physician here and there may have a specimen which has been untimely snatched from the country graveyard, but the stock skeletons of the country are all imported, and that, too, simply because the pauper labor of the old world is able to string bones together for less money than an American laborer could live and pay taxes on.

ANATOMICAL KNOWLEDGE.

"The man who can put the bones of the human frame together must be an anatomist; he must know, for instance, where the collar bone is located and what its functions are. No anatomist, not even a pauper anatomist in the morgue in Paris, would be so foolish as to rest the butt of a gun containing four drams of powder and an ounce and a quarter of shot on his collar bone, and in that position fire it. Collar bones were not made for such use. Now, although possessed of so much more knowledge than some sportsmen, the Paris anatomist is willing to work for a franc a day, and the capitalist who employs him is thus enabled to sell skeletons at such a low rate that even new fledged doctors in America cannot compete.

"Incredible as it may seem, a skeleton well mounted and neatly packed in a white pine box can be had for the small sum of $30. The box can be stood on end, and with the skeleton hanging from the top by a screw running down through the skull. If the box is covered with red plush and lined with blue satin the simple packing case becomes a neat, attractive and economical anatomical closet. Of course, most physicians prefer a black walnut cabinet, with glass doors covered with a red curtain, but that is a matter of taste, not that I would recommend any one to purchase a $30 skeleton unless for temporary use. They are not over substantial; they cannot be polished up very nicely, and they are apt to crumble. You see, the $30 skeletons are taken from the corpses of people well advanced in life, like yourself, where the calcareous matter predominates in the bones. Besides, some people have bones that are naturally more brittle than other people's. The anatomist in the Paris skeleton factory is able to tell by the looks of the subject just how far he may go in whitening the bones for mounting, for the whitening process tends to make the bones more brittle than they are naturally. The skeleton of a young person whose bones are of the right quality will stand a great deal of work, and a great deal of work, even at a franc a day, means an enhanced price. A first class skeleton will bring $125, and at that figure it would be a delight to the profession, having silver plated wire articulations, and everything in style. Now and then some man with an artistic taste in such matters will have a skeleton mounted with solid silver. Although not quite so substantial or well able to stand the rough usage to which students subject such specimens, this love of the beautiful ought by all means to be encouraged.

AT MODERATE PRICES.

"The ordinary demand for skeletons is like the demand in most branches of trade. Good, substantial goods at moderate prices are what are wanted. Well whitened bones articulated with polished steel and packed in good cases at from $60 to $70 are in such demand that you couldn't find half a dozen—no, nor a quarter dozen—in the city at any one time, except shortly after the arrival of a French line steamer, when a fresh importation might increase the stock temporarily. Not less than 300 of these skeletons are sold every year right here in this city, where all the importing houses are located. I want to emphasize the fact that the importing houses are located here, because a Chicago house and a concern in Boston both advertise skeletons of their own importation, when the custom house returns do not show any consignments of such goods to either house. This attempt to take away part of New York's prestige as a trade center ought to be discouraged.

"In addition to this staple trade in medium grade skeletons there is an increasing demand for deformities. Your skeleton with two fractures of the collar bone, if perfectly healed, would bring $5 extra, but if accompanied by the certificate of a reputable physician like myself, stating how the bone was broken, would bring $10 extra. The added price would be for the certificate as much as for any intrinsic value of your skeleton. If, now, you were afflicted with curvature of the spine, or if you were a woman and the pelvis were of a novel and unusual shape, your skeleton might, when well mounted, bring as much as $175 or $300. There are cases of deformities and abnormal growths that are so remarkable as to make the skeleton of the subject of even still greater value. I could imagine a case very easily where a man's skeleton would be of much greater value to his family than he ever was in his life time.

"Talking of skeletons reminds me that veterinary surgeons are getting to be a remarkably well educated lot of men, and require about the same appliances for study that physicians like us do. There is a growing demand for horse and dog skeletons. Horse skeletons are kept in stock and sell for from $125 to $150. There is no regular trade in dog skeletons, but when a call comes the dealer has one made to order, and charges according to the trouble. If you want one, you can probably get it for $50."—New York Sun.

Hall & Trounce, of Calgary, from Senator Cochrane, of Athelstane Compton, consisting of Hereford & Galloways and Polled Angus bulls and heifers have reached their destination. Mr. Geo. C. Miln.

Many of our readers will remember the visit to this city in the fall of 1884 of the eminent tragedian, Mr. Geo. C. Miln. He is again on the Sound and is playing this week in Seattle. Concerning his performance in the cast the Cincinnati Enquirer of his Richelieu says: The audience at the Grand Opera House last night was treated to a genuine surprise. George C. Miln made his first appearance before an assemblage in this city. The play was Richelieu, and Mr. Miln was wonderfully effective in the character of the Cardinal. He brought to his aid an intelligence and mental force which are lacking in many tragedians of the present day. His is melodious and penetrating, and his form and bearing are impressive. The gentleman gave a pleasing and entirely satisfactory interpretation of the role in which Booth and Barrett have made themselves famous. In the curse scene Mr. Miln electrified his hearers; and no one could have shown more dramatic force in the rendition of that most effective climax. The actor had excellent support. Mr. Miln made a fine impression last night, and is a deserving candidate for future prominence in the field upon which he has entered. Should he extend his tour to this city a cordial and warm reception will be extended to him.

Drowning Accidents.

The Vancouver News says that on Saturday afternoon an Italian who worked on the C. P. R. grade near Port Moody left the camp with the intention of having a swim and has not been seen since. His clothes were found on the beach. One report is that he went out to kill fish with dynamite cartridges, and exploded a shot too near the boat, which was upset. This makes the drowning record on the inlet for Saturday amount to three.

The names of the two men drowned on Saturday when crossing from Moodyville to Vancouver were D. C. Brown and D. Ferguson. The former leaves a wife and two children and the latter a wife, and both without means. When leaving Moodyville the ballast was all placed on the windward side of the boat, and the boat was afterwards put about without moving the ballast, which, with the force of the wind, caused her to capsize. Mr. Smith went to the rescue, but too late. The bodies have not been found.

Reasonable Rates.

The wheat crop in the "Inland Empire"—Eastern Oregon and Washington Territory in the neighborhood of Walla Walla this year will be an enormous one. From a gentleman capable of judging who visited Victoria a few days we learn that it will require 150 cars per day for a whole year—Sundays included—to move the crop of this year. Harvesting is now general and the yield promises to be an abundant one. The scene is described as one vast ocean of waving golden grain. The Northern Pacific and the O. R. & N. Co. alive to the importance of that section and in order to encourage farmers and ranchers a special rate of $5 per ton has been fixed upon for grain from Walla Walla to Portland—a rate which is so reasonable that settlers are rushing into the country and land advancing rapidly in price.

Gaining a Foot Hold.

Advices from San Francisco are to the effect that at even rates with the American transcontinental lines the Canadian Pacific is still taking a fair share of the canned goods shipments now offering. Agent Sterm says that the reason for this is that some shippers prefer a cool summer route for the transportation of their goods. The Canadian Pacific will remove large quantities of canned fruits and salmon to Chicago this season, having made arrangements with jobbers to that end. The rate made by both the American and Canadian lines is 75 cents for one hundred pounds.

Give Them a Chance.

That is to say, your lungs. Also all your breathing machinery. Very wonderful machinery it is. Not only the larger air-passages, but the thousands of little tubes and cavities leading from them.

When these are clogged and choked with matter which ought not to be there, your lungs cannot halt do their work. And what they do, they cannot do well.

Call it cold, cough, croup, pneumonia, catarrh, consumption or any of the family of throat and nose and head and lung obstructions, all are bad. All ought to be got rid of. There is just one sure way to get rid of them. That is to take Boschee's German Syrup, which any druggist will sell you at 75 cents a bottle. Even if everything else has failed you you may depend upon this for certain. *

Dan'l Sully.

The above excellent comedian will open at the Victoria to-morrow night in "Daddy Nolan." This play is not one that depends upon a plot for its success. It is simply a continuous stream of fun, frolic and hilarity of the wildest kind, interspersed with singing, dancing and comical sayings and situations, that altogether keep the audience in a state of uninterrupted applause and laughter. The company that Mr. Sully has surrounded himself with is said to be a strong one in every particular.

Lost a Valuable Horse.

Mr. Peatt, of Colwood, Metchosin, this morning lost a valuable horse in this city. It is believed the animal, whilst rolling over in its sleep, got overbalanced and fell out of its stall into the ravine from the stable near Mr. Meston's blacksmith shop, Government street. It was discovered by Officer Sheppard at an early hour this morning. Then it was in great agony. V. S. Blanchard was sent for and on making an examination and probing its back found it to be broken. A cure was impossible and Officer Robb put an end to the poor brute's agonies by shooting it.

H. M. Ship Caroline.

The Caroline, with Rear Admiral Sir M. Culme-Seymour on board, sailed out of Esquimalt harbor at 3 o'clock to-day, bound for Alaska. It is believed she has gone north to watch the sealers belonging to Victoria in the Behring Sea. Prior to leaving Mayor Fell sent on board a well filled hamper of the delicacies of the season, such as fresh fruit, salads and vegetables, as well as a liberal supply of cream and berries, all of which the Admiral and his officers will greatly enjoy.

They Strike.

All parties selling postage stamps struck to-day and declined continuing the business. Their reason for so doing being the reduction from 3 to 1 cent regulation made by the Federal Government as their commission for the work. The post office officials are arranging for the erection of a stand in the post office for the sale of stamps, which, after all, is the proper place where they should be sold. They will be on sale there to-morrow morning.

BOARD OF EDUCATION.

Star Chamber Meetings—School Sites—Officers, &c.

The school board met last night at the police court room. Present: Messrs Heisterman, Walker, Harris, Hayward, Ferguson and Dr Milne.

NEW OFFICERS.

Mr. Heisterman proposed Mr. C. Hayward for chairman, seconded by Mr. Harris and carried.

Mr. Walker moved, seconded by Dr. Milne, that Mr. Heisterman be appointed secretary. Carried.

COMMUNICATIONS.

From D. S. Pope enclosing the report of the result of the written examination held at the close of the last term. Received and filed.

From the Teachers' Institute, inviting the Trustees to a public entertainment to be held in the Y. M. C. A. rooms on the evening of the 14th of July and also to the convention which will be held on the 13th and 14th. Invitations accepted.

The report of attendance was read showing an average daily attendance of 917.38, or an average to each teacher of 45.87.

Accounts to the amount of $30 were received and ordered to be paid.

"STAR CHAMBER" MEETINGS.

The Chairman asked the Board to reconsider the rules in reference to holding meetings in private.

Dr. Milne moved the adoption of the rules as they stood. Seconded by Mr. Harris.

Messrs. Walker and Ferguson were in favor of having all business transacted in public, and they moved to strike out clause eleven of the rules of order, which was lost, the original motion—to continue secret meetings—being carried.

TEACHERS' INSTITUTE.

Mr. D. Wilson, B. A., President of Teachers' Institute, was introduced to the Board, and invited the members to attend the meetings of the Institute. Invitation accepted.

REPAIRS.

Mr. Walker brought up the question of repairs to the schools which should be attended to at once, and the attention of the government be drawn to the subject. He moved to that effect, seconded by Mr. Harris.

Dr. Milne contended that the school act gave the Board power to have the repairs done. The money had been voted in the estimates and should be used.

Mr. Heisterman said that numerous repairs had been required in various schools, and although the government had been asked to attend to them, nothing had been done in the matter. The motion was carried.

SPRING RIDGE SCHOOL SITE.

Dr. Milne moved, seconded by Mr Ferguson, "that the proposed site for the new ward school on Spring Ridge is wholly inadequate for the purpose intended. And in the interests of the ratepayers and inhabitants we protest against the acceptance of the said site on the ground that it will not supply the wants of the Trustees. The Secretary is hereby instructed to forward a copy of this resolution to the Minister of Education, requesting his attention and reply." The mover spoke at some length to the motion, contending that in the rural districts the selection of a site was left to the trustees, subject to the views of a majority of the voters; but this site, which was practically a rural site, had been chosen by the Minister of Education, who did not condescend to ask the opinion of the Board. The site was not suitable; it should have been on Chatham or Pandora streets. The Board had been treated discourteously in this matter.

Mr. Harris asked how it was that no official notice had been received by the Trustees of the selection of the site?

Mr. Ferguson said several ratepayers had told him that they would sooner send their children to Johnson street ward school than to a building upon the proposed site.

Mr. Walker also expressed dissatisfaction at the sale.

The motion was carried unanimously.

Mr. Ferguson moved, seconded by Dr. Milne, that it is advisable to have a list of the promotions and the per centage obtained in each department of the school, and that the same be spread on the minutes. Carried.

The meeting then adjourned at 9:30 o'clock.

To-day is the 12th of July, the anniversary of the battle of the Boyne which is celebrated with much enthusiasm wherever Orangemen most do congregate.

TEACHERS' INSTITUTE.

Opening of the Annual Convention This Afternoon.

The annual meeting of the Teachers' Provincial Institute opened in the rooms of the Y. M. C. A. this afternoon. A large number were in attendance. President Wilson occupied the chair. After the usual routine business had been transacted the following officers were elected for the ensuing year:

President, S. D. Pope, B. A.; First Vice-President, Miss Agnes D. Cameron; Second Vice-President, Mr. R. L. Fraser; Third Vice-President, Mr. Gilchrist; Recording Secretary, Mr. D. E. Kerr; Treasurer, Mr. Bannerman; Corresponding Secretary, Miss Forrest; additional members of Management Committee, Mr. D. Wilson, Miss Gowen.

Before the adjournment of this afternoon's session it was resolved to hold the next meeting of the convention immediately after the close of the school year.

The advisability of holding the next meeting on the mainland is under consideration.

John Linn.

This man, unfortunately killed in the recent catastrophe at Nanaimo, was a native of Ayrshire, Scotland, 34 years of age, and in no respect similar to the "John F. Lynn" from whose mother in Providence, R. I., several letters of inquiry have been received at the U. S. Consulate. Through the courtesy of Mr. S. M. Robins, superintendent V. C. M. & L. Co., Consul Stevens has obtained reliable information as above, and duly transmitted the same last month.

"That Young Man."

Remember the lecture this evening in the school-room of the First Presbyterian Church, by the Rev. P. McF. McLeod, on "That Young Man." The talented lecturer handles this subject in a masterly manner. It will be a treat well worth hearing.

C. P. R. Profits.

The profits of the Canadian Pacific for May, 1887, were $7,000 more than in May, 1886. The net profits from January 1st to May 31st were $365,000 less than the corresponding period of the previous year.

The Man of Her Choice.

One of the greatest belles and heiresses in Philadelphia, and a beauty besides, married a rather good looking young man without a cent to his name or a penny. She had been courted assiduously by one of the greatest beaux in town, a rich young man, with fortune, prestige and everything back of him except that he was gay and had sown an immense crop of wild oats. He sent her the most expensive presents, which she would not accept. Scores of influential friends tried to help on his cause and the most skillful female diplomatists tried to induce her to discard the young man, who had nothing and no friends but herself. Her own family, without an exception, did everything to induce her to prefer the rich suitor. Young as she was, and with all society making a pet of her, she gave up everything—gave up society, gave up home, gave up every luxury and fascination that women are supposed to hold dear—and married the man of her choice. And she is happy—far happier than many who are "in the swim." When some one said to her: "Why did you make the choice you did? Why refuse so much that most girls value dearly?" she replied: "I married for two things—character and morality. My husband had them both and the other man didn't. I loved and respected one; the other I could not."—Philadelphia Times.

Outdoor Exercise for Women.

This is a subject which has been so drummed in the ears of women who have an interest in health subjects that, like many good old rules of right and wrong, it has come to be considered obnoxiously humdrum. "I know what suits me," is the remark, and the speaker takes a vigorous jog in a rocking chair for exercise and relief of mind. "My house cares give me enough exercise," says another. Sometimes it is "borne in upon me" that the natural and proper way of living is in tents. How can we call those matters "duties" which give us time to only sniff the air of heaven as if it were a costly compound to be taken in set doses? It is right to attend to ventilation, to sanitary conditions, to the work of the household and to beautifying the home; but if a woman's whole being is wrapped up in these useful and worthy employments only, is she accepting the best gifts God has provided?—Herald of Health.
